AIKEN MAKES SURE OF HIS GROUND

Oklahoma City, Jan. 14.—To prevent possibility of any bogus petitions being circulated by the opposition for the purpose of discrediting the measure later the campaign committee behind the Aiken initiative bill, which was filed at the office of the secretary of state in amended form Thursday, has adopted a trademark bearing the name of the firm printing the petitions.

The petition already had 16,000 signatures, or within about 4,000 of the number required for filing. In no respect is the measure eliminating fourteen state institutions changed with the exception of the form and this is amended only to prevent any chance to "put something over."

Representative Oliver H. Aiken of Moore, who filed the bill and who is at the head of the campaign committee working for its initiation and adoption, stated Friday that a force of men will be put to work at once securing signatures. While but about 20,000 signatures are required to initiate the bill it is the intention to secure at least 50,000, to be absolutely on the safe side. Mr. Aiken made the following statement:

"At a recent meeting of the league in Oklahoma City we discussed the advisability of amending the form of the petition we are initiating to discontinue fourteen of the state's so-called higher schools. The opinions of eminent lawyers differed in regard to the form of affidavit. Some of the best lawyers in the state offered to defend the present form free of charge. Inasmuch, however as we recognize the unscrupulous tactics of the opposition and the extent to which some of them would go to defeat the will of the people, we have seen fit to amend the form of the jurat. The bill is not changed even so much as in punctuation.

"We have a trade mark printed near the bottom of one of the pages. The purpose of this is to avoid the possibility of having a duplication of our petitions by the opposition. There has been a recent example of the kind of work we may expect from one of our unprincipled opposing rings. Their work was never discovered until pointed out by the lawyers of the opposition. We have made some changes as a defensive measure. We reasoned that it is better to make the change now, losing some good work, than to lose after having secured the requisite number of signatures.

"We regret very much to have to make this amendment, but consider it the act of a good commander to properly protect the rear and then make the advance."

MENINGITIS SITUATION

PHYSICIANS REPORT IMPROVEMENT AT DALLAS—SITUATION UNDER CONTROL.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 13.—During the past twenty-four hours eight new cases of spinal meningitis have been reported, and during the same time six deaths were reported.

Dr. Abraham Sophian, the New York expert, said at noon yesterday that the organization to fight the disease is well perfected and that the health authorities are now able to cope successfully with any condition that may arise.

City Health Officer Albert Nash said last night that conditions were practically the same as the day previous, in so far as the appearance of new cases was concerned, but that the systematic manner in which the organization to fight the disease has been perfected should bring immediately better results.

In addition to establishing and maintaining a more nearly absolute quarantine for persons who have been exposed to the disease, a corps of physicians, six in number, has been detailed to visit all houses where meningitis appears to perfect quarantine and to secure material for nose and throat culture tests from all persons who are exposed. These persons will be kept in strict quarantine until the culture tests are perfected in the meningitis hospital laboratory, and it is found that the exposed person is not a carrier of meningitis. Such tests, it is said, require from two to three days.

Satisfactory results are still being obtained at Parkland hospital, physicians in charge there say, from the use of the Flexner anti-meningitis serum. Such treatment, in general, consists in injecting the serum once each twenty-four hours, or in extremely bad cases, once every twelve hours, until about four injections have been used. This average has been maintained in the treatment of cases under the care of Dr. Sophian and Dr. Nash. It has been demonstrated here that smaller doses than were formerly used will give satisfactory results. The ordinary quantity used here for an injection, according to Dr. Sophian, is from 15 to 19 cubic centimeters.

Speaking before the Physicians' Lunch Club at the Oriental Hotel yesterday Dr. Sophian said: "I think that so far results have been extremely satisfactory. During the last week Dr. Nash and those associated with him have accomplished much. The organization of the work has been such that the disease can be controlled particularly well now. Things have been so directed that we will be able now to control the meningitis situation without much difficulty. We are in such position that if anything unusual should happen we would be able to cope with such conditions successfully.

"The plan of segregating the patients, or centralizing these, has been well carried out. It is evident to us all that during the last forty-eight hours the development of new cases has been very light. When the disease here first started a far greater number of cases was developed in the same time. The new cases of the last forty-eight hours have been few and these have been well controlled. The physicians of the city have given aid in sending patients to the hospital promptly. This and the establishment of a strict quarantine when possible will work for good.

"Out at Parkland hospital very much has been accomplished in the actual treatment of meningitis and I am well satisfied with results there. Ninety per cent of the patients there have been adults and of these adults about 30 per cent have been past middle life. This fact brings the highest fatality rate. We have some cases there that I couldn't hope we could save, but, even considering these, results have been good.

"The number of injections of serum we have used in each case is comparatively very few. Four is the average number.

SOCIALISTS TO MAKE GAINS IN GERMAN ELECTION

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The expected swing toward socialism in the Reichstag election held throughout the empire yesterday was realized.

The socialists net gain is thirteen seats, seven from the Radicals, four from the Liberals, one from the Centrists and three from the Conservatives. They lost, however, two seats to the Liberals. Socialists will participate in thirty-three of the forty-seven ballots, but have a chance of success in only a few of them. The prediction can be confidently made that they will not attain the 100 seats it was freely prophesied they would win.

S.S.S. FOR RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which gradually gets into the circulation because of indigestion, constipation, weak kidney action, and other irregularities of the system which are sometimes considered of no importance. This uric acid causes an inflamed and irritated condition of the blood, and the circulation instead of nourishing the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the nerves, muscles, tissues and joints, the irritating, pain-producing acid with which it is filled. Rheumatism can only be cured by a thorough cleansing of the blood, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing the uric acid and driving it from the blood, effectually and surely removes the cause. S. S. S. strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, causing pain and agony throughout the system, it becomes an invigorating, nourishing fluid, furnishing health and vigor to every part of the body and relieving the suffering caused by this disease. S. S. S. being a purely vegetable blood purifier, is the surest and safest cure for Rheumatism in any of its forms. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Molly Pitcher.

The best known of all the American heroines of battle is Molly Pitcher, the story of whose adventure, especially on the battlefield at Monmouth, is one of the most picturesque incidents of the Revolutionary war. The early life of Molly is somewhat vague. She is supposed to have been born at Carlisle, Pa., on October 13, 1744. Her right name was Mary Ludwig and while the soldiers were only familiar with her first name, calling her Molly, they soon applied the second, because wherever they saw Molly they also saw the pitcher with which she carried water to the sick and wounded in the camps.

Several writers claim that Molly came to this country from Germany with her parents, who were among the Palatines. The first information we have of her is that she was employed as a servant in the family of General Irvine, at Carlisle, and on July 24, 1769, was married to John Hays, a barber. On December 1, 1775, her husband was commissioned a gunner in Proctor's First Pennsylvania artillery, Continental line, and Molly followed him to the field. This was a common thing for the wives of private soldiers to do, their time being spent in laundering for the officers.

At the assault at Fort Clinton she showed much pluck and also during the following year in the important battle of Monmouth, N. J. In the latter battle her husband, a gunner, had fallen, when she sprang to his place and fired the cannon.

Molly had been carrying water to the soldiers from a spring, the mercury being at 96° degrees in the shade. As no one was able to take his place when he became incapacitated, it is said she dropped her pail, seized the rammer and vowed that she would avenge his death. She proved an excellent substitute, her courage exciting the admiration of all, and on the following morning, in her soiled garments, General Greene presented her to Washington, who praised her gallantry and commissioned her a sergeant.

It is related she received many presents from the French officers and that she would sometimes pass along the French lines, cocked hat in hand and would get it almost filled with coins. She is said to have served in the army nearly eight years in all. Later she was placed on the list of half-pay officers and for many years after the Revolution lived at the Carlisle barracks, cooking and washing for the soldiers.

The house in which she spent her later years in Carlisle was demolished in recent years. She died on January 22, 1823, at the age of 79, and was buried with military honors, but her grave remained unmarked until 1876, when Peter Spahr, of Carlisle, conceived the idea of erecting a monument and collected the money for the same.

A monument on the battlefield of Monmouth further commemorates Molly Pitcher, a bas-relief representing her in the act of ramming a cannon. She also figures in George Washington Parke Custis' painting, "The Field of Monmouth." So familiar had the heroine of Monmouth become that the name "Molly Pitcher" was applied by the Continental soldiers, in their hot and weary march through New Jersey, to any woman who brought them water to drink.

"Molly" is credited with having remarked at a banquet at which there were a number of British soldiers, when she was called upon to toast King George: "When Washington leads his soldiers into battle, God help King George."

CHINA'S BABY RULER

Is Nominally Emperor of 400,000,000 People.

Toddling Boy Who Knows Nothing of War's Terrors or of the Present Turmoil Throughout His Empire.

Peking.—Little Pu-Yi is an innocent bit of a boy who knows no more of the terrors of war than of the mysteries of chop suey in an American restaurant. If he lives until February 8, 1912, he will be six years of age. During the last three years Pu-Yi nominally has been ruler of more than 400,000,000 people and of lands that occupy a greater part of the earth than is covered by the United States.

Princes who hold high places in China are required to attain a high degree of proficiency, and Pu-Yi no doubt has been impressed with the cares of state. You may be certain that he cares less for crown and scepter than for such choice morsels or endearing caresses as may be permitted to one in his exalted station.

Pu-Yi may be a tyrant in the eyes of his nurse when it is time for him to be tucked away in his imperial bed and insists it isn't time to go, but savants as well as servants bow to this guileless infant. He is served, flattered and adored, and he fondly dreams each wind and star a friend. His path may be made easy for a time, but if he lives to bear the burdens of state there is danger that he may sink beneath a load of care.

There is so much that is extraordinary in the history of China that it would require volumes to tell it. To western people much seems strange and paradoxical. The emperor is the "Son of Heaven" and rules by "divine authority," but arbitrary power is tempered in many ways. If he rules corruptly or unjustly heaven will send disasters and calamity on the people and then rebellion will be justified. Histories tell how dynasties have come and gone in the thousands of years that this wonderful land has been under civilized rule, but in recent times no more interesting character has appeared than Tsi An, who has been called a "Bismarck in petticoats." For many years before Tsi An died in 1908, she was virtual ruler of China.

Pu-Yi would not be emperor of China if he had not been chosen by Tsi An. This woman is an example of the possibilities in the political system in that land. When Hien Feng ascended the throne in 1861 Tsi An was one of his concubines of the fifth class. The real empress had no son, and when Tsi An gave birth to a son in 1866 she was raised to the rank of empress. Hien Feng died in 1861. Tsi An practically ruled until her death, although there had been nominal emperors—Tung Chi and Kwang Su. The last named died almost at the same time as Tsi An. He was childless and Tsi An is said to have chosen his infant nephew, Pu-Yi, as his successor. Prince Chun, father of the baby, was appointed regent. Prince Chun is twenty-nine years old, and has exercised much influence at court since he was sent on a mission to Germany in 1901.

When Pu-Yi was proclaimed emperor he was declared the adopted son of the emperor, Tung Chi, in order to maintain an imperial tradition that had been violated by Tsi An when the late emperor came to the throne.

Preliminary Talk

"It certainly is going to be a beautiful day," murmured Dalbeck, when the sun, shining in his face, awakened him Sunday morning.

"Why don't you go on out to the golf club, then?" inquired Mrs. Dalbeck.

"Oh, no—I don't want to do that!"

"Why not?"

"Do you want me to go?" inquired Dalbeck, in accents of deep reproach.

"When Sunday is the only day of the week that I can spend with my family, it is pretty hard lines to find you trying to get rid of me!"

"Now, James!" said Mrs. Dalbeck, protestingly. "The idea that you should think such a thing for a minute! You know I'd rather have you at home than anywhere else on earth!"

"Then of course I won't go," Dalbeck said with a skillfully revealed sigh.

"Not if you don't want me to. I believe it's a man's duty to do as his wife wants, even at the cost of his personal inclinations, and of course I'd rather stay at home with you—"

"Why, it would spoil my whole day!" interrupted Mrs. Dalbeck, "if you gave up a beautiful time in the country just because you thought I was selfish enough to make you stay at home! I want you to go!"

"Henrietta," said Dalbeck, "do you suppose for one instant that you can deceive me? I know perfectly well that you are holding your disappointment at the idea of a lonely day and are urging me to go merely out of the selfishness of your nature. I'm not going to take advantage of it. Anyhow, I really don't care about playing golf today. I hadn't even thought of it until you spoke, and you see I didn't jump at the idea then. I'd lots rather stay at home."

"Nonsense," said Mrs. Dalbeck. "If you stayed at home this beautiful day my conscience would reproach me, James. We may not have any more nice Sundays this fall, and it will do you good to get outdoors. I am perfectly willing for you to go, because I know you need the exercise. A man of your age doesn't exercise nearly enough, and—"

"Oh, so you are dissatisfied with my figure, are you?" inquired her husband in tones of deepest reproach. "I know I'm not an Apollo, but I didn't think—"

"James!" cried Mrs. Dalbeck. "You are perfectly stupid. I was just trying to make excuses for you to go—"

"Ah!" said her husband. "Your words plainly show that you honestly don't feel that I should go! Your real opinion is that a man is a dabbler who doesn't pass Sunday with his family, and I agree with you. Where should we find more happiness and pleasure than by the family hearthstone, anyhow. I'd lots rather—"

"I know you would," said his wife, "but you must consider your health, James. It is your duty to do so. Please oblige me by doing as I ask and going out to the club!"

"I haven't the least desire to go," protested Dalbeck. "Somehow I don't feel up to it. It may rain, anyhow—"

"The sun never shone brighter," interrupted Mrs. Dalbeck. "Please, James!"

Dalbeck looked harassed and then resigned. "I don't see why you make such a fuss about it," he mourned. "And there isn't time to catch the golf special now, anyhow, if I did want to go!"

"Yes there is," insisted his wife. "Here are all your clothes ready to jump into, and I'll bring you up some coffee while you are dressing. That clock is five minutes fast, and if you hurry—here are your shoes and—"

"You don't give a fellow time to think," Dalbeck grumbled. "You are rushing me off at such a rate that I don't get a chance to say a word. It doesn't seem to make any difference to you whether I want to go or not, just so you get your own way. I—"

"Here's your cap," said Mrs. Dalbeck, as she opened the inside door, "and if you hurry you can just make the train!"

She watched Dalbeck leap and vanish around the corner, and then she smiled to herself. "I suppose he has to go through all that formula every time to ease his conscience," she said.

"Hello," Dalbeck was saying on the station platform to three other men in golf attire. "I came near missing the train this morning, I tell you—I got so interested making my objections to going as artistic as possible. But they worked beautifully."

Very Convenient. An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built.

A hot argument ensued, in the midst of which a gentleman arrived who lived in one of the jerry-built cottages, and the matter was referred to him.

"Well, sirs," said he, "I can assure ye they are the maist convenient houses I ever abode in."

"But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient d'ye say?"

"Oh, haud yer wheest till I explain. When first I cam to bide in Mr. Jerry's house I had to rise in the middle o' the night an' open the door to let out the cat; but the cat can gang oot an' come in noo thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot o' bother."—Tit-Bits.

'The Violin Maker of Nuremburg'

RELEASED DEC. 22.—SOLAX'S BIG FEATURE

The story revolves about two pupils and comrades, who are apprenticed to an old and successful Violin Maker of paternal and sympathetic inclinations. He hears that the king of his country has announced to the townspeople of Nuremburg that the maker of the best violin would be titled the violin maker of the Court and pensioned on an annuity. The old man apprises his pupils of the king's proclamation.

"LITTLE RED RIDINGHOOD"

RELEASED DEC. 17—Another Feature by the Majestic Co.

Little Mary Pickford, the well-known actress will be seen playing the part of "Little Red Ridinghood." Little Mary needs no introduction to the picture lovers; neither does "Little Red Ridinghood." You know it is bound to be one of the best this season. A treat for the children as well as the old.

See prize given away for the most popular baby. Now on display at the Grand Leader.

Never Found His Bondsman.

This morning Deputy Sheriff Cal Bolin from Konawa with Joe Perry, colored, who is charged with having sold a pint of liquor about a month ago. It is said that Joe made a mistake in his man, as he proved to be Arthur Self, an Anti-Horse Thief deputy, and who lost no time in putting the colored gentleman under arrest. The prisoner asked to be allowed to hunt up some bondsman, and evidently the search was a long one for he has remained away from Ada ever since. He was located at Konawa Friday and brought back to explain his conduct.

Prices for Texas Potatoes.

A recent circular, issued with regard to the potato crop, shows that the national acreage increased from 1899 to 1909 over 730,000 acres, or 243 per cent. In Texas 36,092 acres were devoted to the crop in 1909, an increase of 65.5 per cent in 10 years. In 1899 Texas potatoes brought 54 cents per bushel, in 1909 81 cents.

JUVENILE COURT IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Oklahoma City, Ok., Jan. 12.—The constitutionality of the Oklahoma Juvenile court law was upheld in an opinion of the Criminal Court of Appeals delivered by Judge Armstrong in which the application of Miss Kate Barnard, State commissioner of Charities and Corrections, for the discharge upon a writ of habeas corpus of John Powell was sustained. Powell, age 14 years, was convicted in the District court of Pontotoc county of burglary and sentenced to two years in the state training school at Pauls Valley. The opinion orders the boy released and turned over to the juvenile court of the county with directions to proceed according to law.

The opinion holds that the contention of Robert Wimbish, County Attorney of Pontotoc County, that the Juvenile Court law is void because of defective title and because it takes away from the other courts jurisdiction over crimes which are conferred upon them by the constitution, are not well founded. It is held that it is sufficient for the title to give a reasonable intimation of the contents of the act and to state in general terms its import. It is further held that the act does not deprive any of the other courts of their jurisdiction because under the juvenile law the Juvenile court has power to investigate all cases of infraction of the penal statutes by children under 16 years of age, and if they find that the offender committed the crime with full knowledge of the wrongfulness of the act the Juvenile court must turn the case over to the court having competent jurisdiction. The opinion holds that only the Juvenile courts have the legal right to commit children to the state training school.

In sustaining the law the court holds that the legislature not only had authority to pass such a law, but that it is the duty of the state to enact such legislation on the principle that every child the moment it is born owes allegiance to the government and is entitled to all the safeguards furnished by the law, and that it is a serious matter to commit a child to prison without establishing that he committed the crime charged with full knowledge of the wrongfulness of the act.

If he told the straight truth the chances are that it would take the ordinary man longer to tell of the men he did not whip than to describe the fights in which he came out victorious.

Every little while some fellow starts a crusade against tipping, but the efforts of these men remind us of some of our married men, who boast of their autocratic power over their wives, but who are usually as meek as lambs when their wives are around to give their orders. Although they may feel sore, the chances are that the loudest howler of the bunch will continue to dig up his customary tip for the hotel waiter and Pullman porter just as he has in the past, rather than have those dignitaries show a contempt for them as tightwads.

STICK TO IT.

John Wanamaker, the big Philadelphia merchant, says: "Advertising is not an enterprise for a quitter. If there is one enterprise on earth a quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick like a barnacle to a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins that he must spend money—lots of it. Somebody must tell him that he cannot hope to obtain results commensurate with his expenditures early in the game. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it exerts an irresistible power."

GRAND LEADER MAKES

A LIBERAL OFFER

In view of the suffering that must exist as a result of the cold and stopping of most of the work that has been in progress, L. Rosenfield, proprietor of the Grand Leader offers to do his share of relieving the distress of worthy applicants by distributing a lot of men's clothing to worthy applicants. This clothing is not second hand, but was damaged somewhat by water when his store was partially burned over a year ago. All applications should be made at the News office.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, South Bend, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place," is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

A Costly Chicken.

Probably the costliest chicken in the county is one which was the subject of a suit in Justice Brown's court Friday. I. Hodge, who lives about eight miles west of Ada replevined a rooster from Geo. Aaron, one of his neighbors. As the case finally developed there was no controversy about Hodge being entitled to the chicken, but as the costs had already amounted to quite a little, Aaron resisted the suit on the grounds that he was not the proper party to sue. Constable Adair made a trip to serve the writ of replevin one of the coldest days of the week, and twelve witnesses were summoned. At the conclusion of the trial the costs totaled $33, besides a fee of $10 paid to the attorney on each side making the entire cost of the litigants $53. This is undoubtedly the highest price ever paid for a chicken in Pontotoc county.

A bad rising in his ear, from which he has been suffering intensely, forced Winburne Currie to give up his work at the A. & M. and return home. Judge Currie will send him to Memphis Monday for treatment.

C. W. Graves made a trip to Roff yesterday to secure signatures to the Phillips bill petition. He secured the sum total of six signatures, and reports that those people are very outspoken in the dislike of Aad.

Ed Gill and Tom Haywood are building an ice house down on Boggy and putting up ice, which is from 6 to 8 inches thick above the dam at the power house. They expect to put up about 100 tons.—Stonewall News.

C. W. Graves reports that he has secured over 600 signatures to the petitions initiating the Phillips bill. If the other counties of the state come across like that the Phillips bill will be ready for filing before the Aiken measure, in which case it is not likely that either will ever come to a vote.

COMES QUICKLY

Don't Have to Wait for Weeks—An Ada Illustration.

Waiting is discouraging. Prompt action pleases everybody. A burden on the back is a heavy weight.

Hard to bear life day after day. Lifting weight, removing the burden.

Brings appreciative responses. Ada people tell of it.

Tel of relief that is quick and sure. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. S. T. Williams, 119 W. Thirteenth street, Ada, Okla., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in the family and the results have been splendid. This remedy was taken when the kidneys were out of order and backache caused much suffering. A complete cure was effected."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Origin of Rhode Island Reds.

The Rhode Island Reds are of American origin and are a comparatively new breed. They took their name from the state of Rhode Island where they have been extensively bred for several years. They are believed to have originated from crosses between Asiatics, Mediterraneans and Games. The chief characteristic of this breed are: red color, oblong shape, compact form and smooth plumage. Rhode Island Reds are one of the leading breeds of general purpose fowls, being prolific layers and furnishing meat of excellent quality. They grow rapidly and are soon large enough for broilers or friers.

Hooks Answers Critics.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Federal Judge William C. Hooks of Kansas, one of the most prominent candidates for the existing supreme court vacancy, today made a personal reply to President Taft to charges recently made with the idea of preventing his nomination.

Through Senator Curtis of Kansas Judge Hook laid before the president a letter denying the charges that his son had been attorney for railroads in the Oklahoma two cent fare case in which Judge Hook issued an injunction in favor of the railroad. The chief attorney of the railroad denied in a letter which reached President Taft today that Judge Hook's son had been employed as a lawyer in the case and asserted that he was merely a law student and a law clerk at the time.

Citizens Hold up Train.

Roswell, N. M., Jan. 13.—Having an inevitable coal famine in zero weather, the business men of Portales held up a Santa Fe train two hours today and cut out a car of coal. The conductor of the train wired division headquarters, quoting the threats of the "hold ups," and was ordered to set out the car of coal.

Clark Gets First Instructed Delegates

Washington, Jan. 13.—Friends of Speaker Champ Clark claim the first instructed presidential delegates for the speaker as the result of the special election in the Seventh Congressional district of Kansas. The convention which chose George Neeley, democrat, to succeed the late E. H. Madison, insurgent republican in congress also selected presidential delegates instructed for Speaker Clark.

The Clark forces in Missouri are making a strong effort to secure instructed delegates for the speaker from his home state.

The state department of health reports that the reform school near Wynnewood is in bad condition and that a general clean up is needed.

Ardmore Pioneer Passes Away.

Ardmore, Okla., Jan. 13.—Uncle George Myers, a pioneer citizen of this place, died at his home last night after an illness of only a few days. He had many friends among the early settlers of the town, all of whom knew him well. Uncle George was probably past the three score and ten limit, was an inter-married citizen, owned good property on East Main street, also some agricultural lands over the country. He leaves a wife. Other relatives from around Tishomingo have been notified and awaiting their coming, interment will be had Saturday at Rosedale cemetery.

Business has been somewhere normal today for the first time this week. A fair sized crowd was in town most of the day, it being the first time in several days when people could get out with any degree of comfort.

Most of the brick work on the extension of the Norris buildings on West Main street has been completed, and the work will be pushed as rapidly as conditions permit.

The commissioners of Garvin county have decided to fund the indebtedness of the county by issuing bonds sufficient to take up unpaid claims.

The Perpetual Change.

The things of the world are ever rising and falling, and in perpetual change; and this change must be according to the will of God, as he has bestowed upon man neither the wisdom nor the power to enable him to check it. The great lesson in these things is that man must strengthen himself doubly at such times to fulfill his duty, and to do what is right, and must seek his happiness and inward peace from objects which cannot be taken away from him.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

Although some places are in danger of suffering from a scarcity of coal, Ada is very well supplied at present, and unless the railroads fall down on delivering all that is en route here, the town will be well supplied the remainder of the winter. B. H. Frick says he has six cars on the way.

Captures Sea Gull.

Early Thursday morning while out feeding stock W. E. Little saw what he thought was a large hawk near his lots flying near the ground as if in search of food. He went to the house and procuring a gun returned to near where the bird had alighted on the ground, and cautiously approaching, fired, and the bird tumbled over. Upon examination it was found to be only slightly hurt and was by no means a hawk or eagle. Mr. Little brought it down town but no one could be found who could tell what specie of bird it was until a drummer happened along and being familiar with all kinds of water fowl, pronounced it a sea gull. The bird is a real beauty, of grayish color, large head and beak and large eyes. It measures five feet from tip to tip. Mr. Little expects to keep it until the ice is thawed from the lake and then clip its wings and turn it loose.—Stonewall News.

Attempted Bank Robbery at Dale.

Shawnee, Ok., Jan. 12.—Two men wearing black masks entered the Dale State Bank at Dale, Ok., this afternoon, covered Dillard Saylor, cashier, with revolvers and demanded him to turn over the money. Saylor moved as though to comply with the demands of the hold-up. Vice President Patton, who was in the rear of the bank, hearing the demands of the men, reached for a revolver. The robbers turned and fled from the bank. Cashier Saylor opened fire on the fleeing men and it is believed wounded one of them. They fled from the town on foot. A posse was formed and followed the would-be robbers several miles out of town. The chase was abandoned when night came.

C. W. Graves was down from Ada Monday with a petition against the passage of the Aiken bill. If other parts of the state are so solidly against the measure as the people of this vicinity it will never become a law.—Stonewall News.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
For the convenience of the public, the Evening News will hereafter be on sale at the Post-office News stand for the small sum of 2c. The same rate will prevail at the News office. This is less than the actual cost of the paper, and it is impossible to make the price any lower. The publishers would like to give it away, but every paper costs money to print, and if it is worth reading at all, the News is certainly worth the small sum asked for it.
